Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 1-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Bigelow (US 6,647,305 B1).

Regarding claims 1, 7 and 12, Bigelow discloses entering a definition of a functional deliverable of the product and information identifying configuration of the product at the input device of the operator computer system (column 1, lines 46-64); and generating one or more installation instructions (Abstract), wherein at least one of the generated one or more installation instructions includes one or more instances of one of a plurality of tool resource objects, the plurality of tool resource objects being abstractions of tool resources, each tool resource object represents all changes that relate to one of a tool or a part of a tool, wherein the one or more instances are based on product information (Fig. 2-18).

Regarding claims 2-3, 8-11 and 13-16, Bigelow discloses the product information includes information identifying configuration of the product (); the information identifying configuration of the product includes product option information (Fig. 6-11; element 608); the product information includes definition of a functional deliverable of the product (Fig. 6, element 610); the functional deliverable of the product includes production line number where the object applies (Fig. 10); an instance of the object includes version information (Fig. 6, element 602).

Conclusion

3. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
